

CHAMPLAIN CABLE CORPORATION'S PERSISTENT ORGANIC POLLUTANTS DECLARATION

This document serves as a Declaration and Confirmation from Champlain Cable Corporation that Persistant Organic Pollutants (POPs) are not used in any wire or cable produced at our facilities located in Colchester, Vermont and El Paso, Texas.

POPs are toxic chemicals that adversely affect human health and the environment. Because they can be transported by wind and water, most POPs generated can and do affect people and wildlife far from where they are used and released. To address this, the United States joined 90 other countries and the European Community to sign a United Nations treaty, known as the Stockholm Convention, to reduce or eliminate the production, use, and/or release of POPs, which are listed below.

- Aldrin
- Chlordane
- Chlordecone
- Decabromodiphenyl ether (c-decaBDE)
- Dicofol
